Early Morning Crash Kills Motorist

HARRY J. RUTH DIES AS AUTO STRIKES BRIDGE

Body Discovered Southeast of Marion by Neighbors on Way to Work.

Harry J. Ruth, 28, of near Marion, was killed at approximately 4:30 a. m. today when his car crashed into the southeast corner of a bridge seven miles northeast of Waldo on county road 148.

State highway patrolmen, called to the scene of the accident at 6:30 this morning, said evidently Mr. Ruth was traveling west towards his home on the county road, when his car ran into the bridge over the Olentangy river and overturned on the bridge. He was the only occupant of the car.

The car, impaled on a steel guard-rail in the middle of the bridge, was demolished.

Killed Near Home

The bridge is about two miles east of Ruth's farm home on the Firstenberger Road.

Three neighbors of the Ruths, Paul Lauderbeck, Paul Farlee, and Don Schrote, found the car blocking the bridge at 6:30 a. m. and phoned the state patrol. They were enroute to work at Fairfield Engineering company.

His body was removed to the Schaffner-Denzer funeral home in the Smith ambulance.

Mr. Ruth is survived by his wife, Vesta Kramer Ruth, and five children, Betty Jean, 8, Nancy Jo, 6, Erma Lucille, 5, Harold J., 3, and Dale Edward, 2. His parents, Albert V. and Mabel Firstenberger Ruth, and his grandmother, Mrs. Caroline Ruth, also living on the Firstenberger road, survive him.

He was born in Richland township on Feb. 8, 1919, was married April 4, 1938, in Stoutsville, O. He was a farmer.

Served in Navy

He was a member of the St. John Evangelical and Reformed church, Whetstone Lodge, K. of P., at Waldo and was a veteran of World War II, serving in the Navy.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Monday at the Schaffner-Denzer funeral home, with Rev. H. N. Dorres of Waldo and Rev. H. A. Bloom of Bucyrus officiating. Burial will be made in Marion cemetery.

Arabs Begin Encirclement Of Palestine

Armies of 5 Nations Move To Back Resolution Against Zionism.

By The Associated Press

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Oct. 10 — The armies of five Arab nations started moving today, translating into action last night's Arab league resolutions calling on the Arab world to defend Palestine from Zionism with men and money.

War office spokesmen in Lebanon and Syria said troops of those two countries bordering on Palestine had begun rolling at midnight and were "maneuvering" near the frontier.

Troops of King Abduullah's Arab legion of Trans-Jordan, reputedly the largest and best-equipped military force in the oil-rich Middle East, started massing along the river Jordan in half a dozen hastily spotted camps.

The Lebanon press said mechanized patrols of this force were ranging along the whole length of Palestine's eastern boundary in readiness for what the papers called invasion of eastern Palestine.

To the south, reliable sources in Beirut said, Egyptian forces were preparing to move into the Sinai desert, and Saudi Arabian cavalry was reported crossing into Egyptian territory at the invitation of the Egyptian government to participate in cordoning off the Holy Land with a ring of steel.

Emir Magid Arslan, Lebanon's war minister, said "of course we cannot disclose the movements of our forces," but sources close to the war ministry estimated a mobile force of 2,000 Lebanese soldiers reached the Palestine frontier before dawn today.

Jerusalem Denies Knowledge of Arab Move

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, Oct. 10 — The Palestine government declared today that it has no knowledge of Arab troop concentrations on Palestine's borders.

"In view of persistent rumors of Arab troop concentrations on Palestine's northern and southern borders we are asked to state emphatically that the Palestine government has no knowledge of such troop concentrations," the government's public information officer said.

The statement was in response to reports from Beirut that Arab troops were being moved up to the frontiers of the Holy Land.

He was taken to Marion City hospital in the M. H. Gunder and Sons ambulance where he was treated for multiple fractures. His condition today is reported to be fair.

Erie officials said today that apparently there was no one near when the accident occurred and full details were not known.

MANSFIELD EXECUTIVE DIES

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., Oct. 10—Harry Black, 80-year-old senior vice president of the Ohio Brass Co., died last night after a one-day illness. He had been suffering from a heart ailment.

WHERE GIANT MARION POWER SHOVELS OPERATE. Aerial photograph above shows a wide expanse of strip coal mining area in eastern Ohio where Marion Power Shovel Co. giant excavators, largest in the world, are being used to dig coal which lies near the surface in that locality. Two of the shovels, each with a 40-yard dipper, are shown at the top center of the picture. This photograph was taken primarily to give some idea of tree planting under way on strip mine banks. It was taken over the Georgetown stripping operation of the Hanna Coal Co. Trees can be seen growing along the banks. The solid stands on the right are four years old and twice as high as the average adults head. Those planted this spring are nearest the shovels. Over 1-1/4 million trees were planted voluntarily by Ohio's strip mine coal producers this year, over 1-1/3 million last year. They will supply props and hardwood timbers for underground coal mines within a few years. The actual planting and management is carried out by the coal operators' Ohio Reclamation association.

AFL REVOLTS AGAINST LEWIS

Abolishes Office in Federation So Mine Leader Can't Bar NLRB Recognition.

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10—Top AFL leaders slapped down a defiant John L. Lewis today by voting to strip him—and 12 other vice-presidents—of the "office" in the federation by which he was able to bar the door of the national labor relations board to 1,500 tiny local unions.

Though not a "red" sympathizer himself, Lewis refused to sign the affidavit required by the Taft-Hartley act disavowing communism. Unions whose officers don't sign, cannot use the national labor relations board.

The little federal locals, with 300,000 members need the NLRB's protective facilities most among the AFL'S big family of unions. Their national "officers" are the council members.

Abolish Office

The 15-man council, over the opposition of Lewis, voted to do away with the offices of vice-president, leaving only President William Green and Secretary-Treasurer George Meany as "officers" of the federation.

Lewis and his 12 vice-presidential colleagues would become mere council members, retaining their numerical order of seniority on that policy-making body.

One council member predicted the convention would adopt the proposal by a seven-eighths majority, but delegates whispered they expected the militant Lewis to put up at least a token fight on the convention floor. A constitutional amendment, requiring a two-thirds vote, is necessary to put the change in effect.

No "Bolt" Seen

Few now believe that Lewis would go so far as to "take a walk" from the AFL over it. He brought his 600,000 miners back to the federation in 1946, a decade after he had led them out to help

BALKAN "WATCHDOG" BEING SET UP BY UN

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 10—Despite a Russian boycott threat, the United Nations went ahead today with creation of a "watchdog" commission in the turbulent Balkans.

The blunt Soviet announcement of non-cooperation, delivered to the assembly's 57-nation political committee by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky in angry tones yesterday, was followed quickly by similar statements from Poland, Yugoslavia, the Soviet Ukraine, White Russia and Czechoslovakia.

Vishinsky's statement came in the midst of another violent attack on the United States-sponsored Balkans commission and left delegates momentarily stunned. However, Chairman Joseph Bech of Luxembourg calmly called for the debate on commission membership to continue.

Premier Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium and U. S. Delegate Herschel V. Johnson then remarked tartly that the Soviet decision was to be regretted but there was no cause to turn back.

Moscow's move means that the Soviet bloc of countries will not take part in the election to the commission nor in its work.

Rookie Patrolman Gets Credit For Capturing Findlay Gunman

By The Associated Press

FINDLAY, O., Oct. 10—A 29-year-old, nearsighted gunman was held today without charge after he was wounded and captured by a rookie state highway patrolman while holding an Episcopal rector prisoner in his own church.

Police Chief Leo M. Larkins identified the prisoner as Leonard Johnson of Detroit. Johnson received a flesh wound near the left shoulder yesterday when shot by State Patrolman R. C. Vanderveen, an ex-Marine, who crept among church pews in stocking feet trying for a clear shot.

State Highway Patrol Cpl. T. A. Brindle said Johnson had served three reformatory terms in Michigan for breaking and entering.

Cpl. James Van Lande and Sgt. Carl Sein of Detroit and the Erie state police posts were to question Johnson today.

Johnson held Rev. John Evans Knox prisoner at gunpoint for an hour while police argued with him. He was pressing a pistol against the rector's side when the patrolman fired. After the shot Rev. Knox grappled with Johnson and both fell to the floor.

Vanderveen fired again after Johnson broke free, the gunman dropping to the floor and remaining still.

Vanderveen, who used a high powered rifle, said the second bullet tore through Johnson's leather jacket and a pew, striking a wall. Formerly of Dayton, Vanderveen joined the state patrol about four months ago.

Rev. Knox was standing on the steps of Trinity Episcopal church when Johnson appeared and ordered him to hide with him.

Johnson made his initial break while he and a companion, identified by Chief Larkins as Lindell Brown, 29, of Granville, Ky., were undergoing a routine search at police headquarters. Larkins said Brown did not escape and apparently had no police record.

Threatens Murder

While holding the rector near the baptismal fount at the front of the church, Johnson shouted when police approached:

"I'll kill him if you try and capture me."

Assured by police he had done nothing very serious, Johnson answered:

"Yah! Yah! You haven't got much on me. Just carrying concealed weapons, stealing a car and so forth."

While police attempted to talk Johnson into surrendering, the gunman started to light a cigaret but checked the action when the rector, a former Navy chaplain remonstrated.

"You can't smoke in here. We never allow anyone to smoke in church."

Rev. Knox received a lacerated hand and a black eye in the struggle.

10 CHICAGOANS KILLED IN FIRE

6 Children, 4 Women Die as Blaze Sweeps Apartment House.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 10—Ten persons, including six children and four women, were killed and more than a dozen others injured early today in a fire which swept through a crowded four-story apartment building on the city's near northwest side.

All of the dead and injured in the blaze, which police and fire officials said appeared to have been of incendiary origin, were Negroes. Fourteen were hospitalized.

Firemen searched the smouldering ruins of the 16-apartment building after early reports had placed the death toll as high as 20.

Nearly 250 persons were reported to have been in the building at 940 West Ohio street when the blaze broke out under a stairway on the first floor and spread quickly through the roof.

Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan said a charred can that smelled strongly of kerosene was found in the stairwell. He believed that the fire had been deliberately started.

Panic gripped the tenants as the flames mounted rapidly up the stairs, penetrating 16 flats. At least one woman was killed and four other persons injured as they plunged out of windows.

GALION STRIKE SUIT HEARING CONTINUES

North Electric Witnesses Give Testimony.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Oct. 10—Hearing of the injunction suit against the UAW-CIO for mass picketing at the North Electric company plant at Galion entered its third day today.

Judge Ralph Sugrue of Tiffin continued to hear testimony for the company. There has been no indication of when testimony will be completed. Stephan Mack, chief counsel for the UAW, has not indicated the number of witnesses the union will call.

Company testimony given yesterday included a statement by R. K. McBerty, a vice president, that Arnold Wilt, an employe and picket struck him during an altercation at the plant two weeks ago.

McBerty testified that Wilt told him "You wanted violence. Now you get it." McBerty related he called the worker "a damn liar" and was struck. He further testified that a Mr. Gosser of the Automobile Workers Union told him at Mt. Gilead that if he tried to enter the Galion plant "someone will be killed."

McBerty also testified that the firm is two years behind in filling its orders for telephone switchboards, many of which are being manufactured for the government.

Also testifying were other witnesses for the company who described mass picketing during several days preceding the company petition for an injunction.

The company filed the suit seeking to keep the UAW-CIO and its members from employing violence at the plant and to limit the number of pickets. Suit was filed after violence flared when company officials led a back-to-work movement on Sept. 26.

Judge Sugrue commenced hearings last week on the suit and adjourned the proceedings until yesterday, after presiding at his own court at Tiffin, then in session.

Funeral Ship To Dock Today

Army Transport Honda Knot Brings First Bodies to San Francisco.

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10—A grey transport slips through the mists of the Golden Gate today with the bodies of men who died in World War II—the first to fall and the first to come home.

A nation's grateful tribute awaited the first funeral ship returning the war dead—most of them victims of Japan's attack on Pearl Harbor which sowed American cemeteries all over the world.

In Washington, the Capitol Flag dipped to half-staff — an honor heretofore extended only on the death of a president or a member of congress.

The transport Honda Knot, inbound from Honolulu, carried 3,028 bodies. In addition to the Pearl Harbor dead, the ship also bore some who died in later battles in China, India and Burma.

In all, nearly 300,000 Americans lost their lives in World War II. Actually the conflict cost more—the figure does not include the missing or those who died as prisoners.

More Coming from Europe

The Honda Knot and a transport from Europe, due in New York Oct. 25, are the first of many—for officials say three-fourths of all Americans who died aboard probably will be returned for burial.

At noon, the Honda Knot drops anchor 300 yards off the curving Marina shore, just inside the Golden Gate. Forty-eight planes are escorting her into San Francisco Bay. As memorial services begin, artillery will fire a measure, 21-gun salute.

From the shore, a little launch will carry a simple wreath to the ship—President Truman's tribute from the nation. Leaves from trees in all parts of the country were used to form the wreath.

Then, a minute of silence, followed by the national anthem, played by an Army-Navy band. And Major Roger Lapham will inform the President's military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughn, that the memorial wreath has been presented.

General Clark To Speak

Speakers for the half-hour memorial service include Gen. Mark E. Clark, Sixth Army commandant; Governor Earl Warren; and Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan.

After taps, the Honda Knot moves on down the bay to dock at the Oakland Army base.

Six caskets will lie in state in the rotunda of San Francisco's city hall Saturday morning, representing the Army, Navy, Coast Guard, Marine Corps, Air Force, and service-attached civilians.

Within three days, and with the greatest reverence, all 3,028 caskets will be sent to their final resting places, in accord with the wishes of next of kin. With each will go a guard of honor.

Lt. Col. Albert Bardin, chief of the center's graves registration unit, said distribution of the bodies to families will be made as quickly as possible after they are received, with delivery made to next-of-kin or authorized representatives.

Families of the returning war dead, received telegrams from the government last night informing them of the arrival of the ship. The exact date of arrival at the distribution points was not given. When this date is learned, families will then make arrangements for local burial.

Newark Policemen Freed Of Manslaughter Charge

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O., Oct. 10—Patrolmen Carl Koblens and Bryan Woolard were free today of manslaughter charges in the death of Frank Merryman last April whom they were accused of beating during an arrest.

Three judges who tried the patrolmen said they decided on the innocent verdict yesterday because the prosecution failed to prove guilt "beyond a reasonable doubt."

Woolard and Koblens were accused of striking Merryman after his arrest at a church social on an intoxication charge. The patrolmen waived jury trial and were tried by Judges Clifford Belt of St. Clairsville, Lloyd Leech of Coshocton and U. S. McGonagle of Perry county.

LIQUOR POLICY CHANGE ASKED

New Enforcement Chief Suggests Withholding Funds from Violating Cities.

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, Oct. 10—Donald T. Geyer to become enforcement chief of the state liquor department Oct. 15, said yesterday he favored shutting off distribution of millions of dollars in liquor funds to local government if they did not enforce the state liquor laws.

Municipalities, incorporated townships and towns received $6,418,931 as their share of liquor permit fees distributed last year on a basis of the number of permit holders within their boundaries. Over $70,000,000 was given to the local general funds since 1934.

The state liquor law gives the liquor control board the power to "withhold distribution" of the money if the board thinks local police "are refusing or culpably neglecting to enforce . . . the penal laws of this state relating to the sale and distribution of intoxicating liquors."

The law says the share of the penalized community would then be turned over to the department's rotary fund and the penalty would hold until "further order of the board."

Succeeds Lt. Moon

Geyer, appointed yesterday to succeed Lt. Floyd Moon (former Marion man) who is resigning to return to the highway patrol, was a liquor enforcement agent for the past eight years and just recently was in charge of the Akron district.

"I have had local law enforcement officials tell me personally that they condone gambling in their communities," Geyer said.

When told of the money-withholding powers of the liquor law he said "if that is the law I certainly would like to see it enforced." He pointed out, however, that the law put the responsibility squarely on the shoulders of the liquor control board.

Lt. Moon, who received an accolade from Gov. Thomas J. Herbert yesterday for putting liquor enforcement in the state on a "firm and respected plane," is on record as believing that it is the job of local officials to clean up gambling and other liquor violations.

State Gets Little

He said that the state got very little return for its $6,000,000 distributed last year.

The towns, cities, villages and townships that shared in the permit funds last year included

Lima $52,715; Kenton 57,850; Marion $24,780; Mansfield $47,885, Upper Sandusky $4,400.

Mason City, Ia. Turns Out Unbeatable Bands

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

MASON CITY, Ia., Oct. 10—Here the school kids learn to spell Tschaikowsky as soon as they do Mississippi.

This is one of the most music-conscious small cities in America, and it has a high school band that hasn't been defeated in state or national competition in 18 years.

They groom school children for band and orchestra work here as intensively as Notre Dame goes in for football.

Hal Boyle

These junior members of the bubble gum set are too young to huff and puff through regular wind instruments, so they begin by learning the basis of all music—rhythm. Each kindergarten has its own small rhythm band, and the concerts are more fun than Mother Goose.

Band playing is something you have to sink your teeth into. The children therefore aren't encouraged to start playing wind instruments until the third grade.

"Teeth Aren't Good"

"Before that their teeth aren't too good, and they have trouble with the reeds," smiled Carleton Stewart, high school band director and president of the National High School Band association.

Stewart is a small pleasant man with a neat dark moustache and is now in his seventeenth year here. He is as popular among the students as any athletic coach.

"Our band has been in nine national contests and won a first division award every time," he said. "Our orchestra has won a first division award in five of its six national contests."

The city was so proud of its band that in 1934 its citizens voted to erect a $25,000 school building devoted exclusively to instrumental music—the first of its kind in the nation.

Some 400 pupils are now studying instrumental music. The music laboratory has its own recording machine, and a movie camera.

"The movie camera is good for esprit de corps," said Stewart. "We take it along on trips to make pictures of the band."

Less than one per cent of the band players become professional musicians, but that isn't the aim.

"Most retain a lifelong interest in music," Stewart said, "and band playing teaches them many other things—teamwork, coordination, how to get along with the other fellow."

The city annually has a band festival that brings here as many as 50 neighboring town bands. It also has a woman's symphony orchestra, a tax-supported community band for summer park concerts, a 50-member Chamber of Commerce glee club and a choral society for both men and women.

Yes, music matters in Mason City. Incidentally, it actually is easier to learn to spell Tschaikowsky than Mississippi. You do it with chant and rhyme as in a college yell—like this

"T-S-C!"
"H-A-I!"
"K-O-W!"
"S-K-Y!"
"Tschaikowsky! Tschaikowsky!"
Tschaikowsky!!!"

Future of Eating in America Confuses Experts and Writer

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10—Join congress and me today, all ye [illegible] ters of the belt, and learn something (I don't rightly know what) about the future of eating in America.

Congressional experts have been meeting all this week under enlarged photographs of corn fields and white-faced cattle in the house agriculture committee room. They've been considering what we specialists call the long-term viewpoint. This concerns the price of pot-roasts, not tomorrow, but five years from now.

Jerry Voorhis, an intense young man with touseled hair and horn-rimmed glasses, was telling about the future when I dropped in. He used to be a congressman himself (from California); now he's executive secretary of the Cooperative League of America.

He read a lengthy prepared statement, which added up to the idea that farmers' cooperatives are wonderful things for the country and can be wonderfuller still. And all of a sudden all hands were in an argument about morning glory fertilizer, sand as a feed for cattle, and tax-evading agriculturists.

Looks Confused

The future of eating looks a little confused to a city fellow like me, but here are the facts as I heard 'em:

Voorhis said it used to be, before the farmers got smart and organized cooperaives to buy their supplies wholsale, that they never knew what was in' a sack of fertilizer, or cattle feed.

"There'd be a sign on the fertilizer, 'morning glory,' or something like that," he said, "But no indication what it was made of. So they began mixing their own, and labeling it properly, and now all the fertilizer fatcories tell the customers what's in the sack. The same goes for stock feed. I'm told it used to contain a good deal of sand."

Congressman Robert Cross of Pennsylvania, who used to be a farmer, begged to differ. He said state laws forced the proper labeling of fertilizer. And as for sand in the cattle feed, goodness!

"Peanut shells, maybe," he shouted. "But not sand. Sand doesn't go so good in livestock. It rests heavy in their stomachs. What they used to do was use sand in the chicken feed."

That argument shifted then to the question; why don't cooperatives pay income taxes? From now on—I'm warning you—read carefully:

Rep. Eugene Worley of Texas, said there were those who felt that farmers' cooperatives ought to pay taxes on their profits.

Hard To Follow

"Are you going to tax business generally on reductions in prices?" Voorhis cried.

"That's hard to follow," Rep. Worley began. "I . . . . ."

"Of course it is," snapped Voorhis. "It is ridiculous. How are you going to tax people on money that isn't theirs and they don't keep?"

He said cooperative mills, filling stations, department stores, and dozens of other enterprises, don't make profits because they give back the money in their tills to their customer-stockholders.

Mighty funny, then, that a Virginia cooperative paid only $24,000 in taxes when a private concern would have had to pay $235,000 on the same volume of business, said Rep. John Flanagan of Virginia. Voorhis cried out in auguish. Somebody else said taxes were none of the agriculture committee's business. Chairman Clifford Hope of Kansas ruled that they weren't, for a fact, but it would be all right for the gentlemen to talk about 'em.

I don't think I'll do any more reporting on this subject; I doubt (no reflection on anybody but me) that it pays.

HAYRIDE-DANCE

A hayride-dance, postponed from a week ago, will be held Saturday night by the recently organized Ess Dee club. Couples planning to attend are to meet at the Legion Dugout on South High street at 9 p. m. Following the hayride, the group will return to the Dugout for dancing and refreshments. Don Throckmorton can be contacted at 4035 for tickets. The club is composed of young people 18 years of age and over who hold weekly dances. It is sponsored by Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion.

When the prisoners were moved to Nuremberg, Mr. Dolibois was assigned to go along with them, during which time he acted as counsellor and interpreter. Yankees Get $5,800 Each Dodger Share of Series Money Announced as $4,000 Per Player.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10 — The world champion New York Yankees will divide their series money into 34 full shares and one three-quarters share with each full share amounting to approximately $5,800, it was learned today.

Thirty-two members of the losing Brooklyn Dodgers will get approximately $4,000 each and two others of the club will get half-shares, it was understood.

The official total receipts for the seven-game world series, which ended last Monday, were $1,781,348.92, of which the players divided $493,674.82, according to a statement issued from Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler's office today. The players participated only in the receipts from the first four games.

After taxes, the Yankees' take was $207,343.42, and for Brooklyn it was $138,228.95.

Players on each team finishing second in the pennant race—St. Louis in the National and Detroit in the American league—will divide $37,025.62 each.

The third place Boston clubs in both loops will receive $24,683.74 apiece to distribute among the athletes while the fourth place teams—New York in the National and Cleveland in the American—will get $12,341.87 each to pass around.

Each winning club and each league got $255,117.94 out of the series.

The cut for the commissioner's office amounted to $267,202.33.

Total attendance for the series was 389,763.

It was not learned what New York Yankee player was voted the three-fourth share, nor who the two Dodgers were who received half-shares.

Walter Mulbry, secretary-treasurer of baseball, who released the financial statement, said it had not been determined whether the commissioner would advance any details of the player money split.

The bridal bouquet was of garden flowers and vegetables. A wedding cake centered the table at a "reception" and the bride was presented a gift from the club. Following, group singing was featured and euchre was played. One new member was taken in and a former member was reinstated. The next meeting will be in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson on Franklin street in Marion.

BUILDING CONTRACT SETS OHIO RECORD

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 10—The largest construction contract in the state welfare department's history was awarded today for a $3,300,000 hospital building at the Apple Creek state school for feeble-minded near Wooster.

Director Charles L. Sherwood said the new hospital, for which $1,700,000 originally was budgeted, would provide space for 500 to 600 more patients at the school.

The state control board granted yesterday a welfare department request for transfer of $1,720,438 from within the department's construction budget to meet the bids on the unit.

The low bidders are the Steinle-Wolfe Company of Fremont, with $2,745,355 on the general contract Huffman-Wolfe Company of Columbus, $428,700 for heating; Thomas A. Aitland of Massillon, $203,886 for plumbing, and the J. D. Kissel Company of Geneva, $103,000 for electrical work.

Sherwood said that the decision to go ahead with the building, despite the fact that bids were more than double state engineers' estimate of the costs, was reached after several conferences with Gov. Thomas J. Herbert. He added that the governor asked him first to consider cutting down the number of patient beds to meet the money available or to transfer funds within the department's own budget to meet the increased cost. The latter choice finally was made.

THREE BAGS OF FLOUR STOLEN FROM MILL

Workmen Loading Freight Car Report Theft.

Charles Oliver, a packer at Marion Milling Co., 185 North Prospect street, reported theft of three 100-pound sacks of flour Thursday night during loading operations, city police said. The flour was valued at $18.60.

Mr. Oliver told police that while a crew of workers were loading the sacks on a freight car at 9:45 p. m. yesterday, they missed one sack of flour. A few minutes later, they stopped for lunch, closing the door of the car. While eating they heard the car door being opened and when they returned to work, two more sacks were gone.

Police said they suspected three men who had been hanging around Prospect and Mill streets a short time before.

Lausche Tells Legion Ohio Should Pay Bonus

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 10—Returning to the speaker's rostrum, former Gov. Frank J. Lausche told a group of Legionnaires Thursday night that a state bonus was "owed service personnel to restore part of what they lost during the war."

The dark-haired attorney, who scoffed at reports he was being considered as a candidate for the Democratic vice presidential nomination, also expressed hope that the nation would "show the same spirit in the world-wide fight against famine that we showed in the fight against dictatorship and aggression."

He addressed the Lake Shore Post No. 273, to which he has belonged for 27 years.

Heavier Taxes Planned By Britain for 1948

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 10—A high government source said today that Britain would have an emergency national budget this year with higher taxes to combat the threat of inflation.

Another authoritative informant said that "other financial measures" besides taxation would be taken to block an inflationary trend resulting from the government's "export or die" program.

The decision to introduce the emergency budget was interpreted by the informants to maen that the labor government would be compelled to postpone steel nationalization until next year.

Judge Flays Punishment At Ohio Children's Home

By The Associated Press

ALLIANCE, O., Oct. 10—Domestic Relations Judge Paul D. Van Nostram reported today that punishment given at the Fairmount Children's home was "too severe" and the entire discipline system needed correcting.

The jurist, whose tribunal is a branch of the Stark county common pleas court, declared that apparently any employe of the home was allowed to wield the first paddle or strap that came to hand.

The paddles used are too big, Judge Van Nostrum asserted, and only a designated authority should inflict punishment.

His report on the home near here coincided with statements by commissioners of Stark and Columbiana counties, who have been operating the institution, and the home's board of trustees.

The commissioners and trustees said a vote of confidence had been given Supt. B.E. Saffell, center of the three-way investigation.

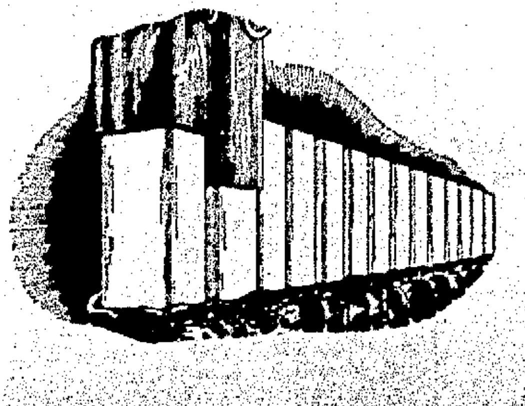
What a billion dollar steel expansion program means to you



THE steel companies of America are spending one billion dollars to add 2,500,000 tons of new steelmaking capacity for your benefit. Parts of this program were started two years ago.

Further expenditures of many more hundreds of millions are planned for additional plants and equipment.

This means that more and more steel will be available to make the things you need—houses, farm implements, automobiles, freight cars and thousands of other products of everyday use.

Steelmakers Have Faith in our Nation's Future.

This year's production of steel is the greatest in peacetime history, far greater than all the rest of the world combined.

But demand is great, too—greater than supply for some kinds of steel. If 18,000,000 tons of steel had not been lost in the last two years because of strikes in steel, coal and other industries there would be few complaints about the steel shortages today.

The huge expansion programs were planned to enable the industry to catch up with demand in all kinds of steel as quickly as possible.

In 1929 the steel industry could make 1,173 pounds of steel for each man, woman and child. Today it can make 1,499 pounds. With the expansion in prospect it will make 1,540 pounds.

As always throughout its history, steel is expanding its capacity to meet the growing needs of the country.

Marshall Plan for U. S. Too

THE Marshall plan for Europe is supposed to show war-weary Europeans how to get American credits if they'll help themselves.

Unfortunately, there's no Marshall plan to show war-weary Americans how to make the credits available The Truman administration is running headlong into a home-made crisis in the morale of the American people.

The causes of the crisis are easy to determine.

The American people haven't been taken into the confidence of their government; they don't understand what it's trying to do; they suspect it of trying to cover up its sins of omission and commission with hysteria and bustle.

The American people have not been told what they stand to get out of the Marshall plan, or any other assistance to Europe, and they're skeptical of extending lend-lease into an indefinite outpouring of their wealth with no hope of getting anything back except a vague hope of international security.

The American people—meaning chiefly Americans who pay direct taxes—are uneasy about the ultimate consequences of levying on their future earning power for a scheme that very easily could become a gigantic international dole.

Foreign policy in the United States is supposed to reflect popular opinion The only way to sustain a policy is to make sure it is built on a foundation of public confidence. The Truman administration has not prepared such a foundation It has a Marshall plan for Europeans but no plan for Americans.

What Makes Vishinsky Rave?

WHETHER it's called "cold war," "psychological warfare," or "war of nerves," it's always the same thing happening between the United States and Russia—a battle for men's minds. The battle has lasted for some 30 years.

Generations ago, democracy put despotism on the defensive, and it's still there. That's why Vishinsky raves in the United Nations assembly. It's why pimp politicos in Balkan puppet states rave. It's why Stalin eggs on his kept press to smear the United States.

The battle for men's minds rages in Italy, France, Great Britain, Latin America, Asia, in the industrial cities of the United States in the minority groups. It is not just a few million human beings who are caught in the crossfire but hundreds of millions. All are being exposed to the poison of the great lie fabricated in the Kremlin and now being reiterated wherever men will listen—the lie that the United States is trying to conquer the world, with England as its partner, and that only the Soviet Union remains to fight "imperialism"

Governments, even civilizations, now rest on the ability of the ordinary people of the earth to see difference between the great lie and the great truth—that the United States, with potential power to conquer all of them—is interested only in giving them freedom. The issue is between individualism and collectivism, the kind of collectivism practiced in Italy, Germany and Russia before World War II—and still practiced in Russia.

Vishinsky raves The Kremlin's propaganda machinery rumbles and spews out its quota of little lies to bolster the great lie Despotism is making its last desperate stand and is shrewdly focusing its final counterattack on the places where men have attained the most freedom—the United States and Great Britain.

Interpreting the Law

TO A READER who isn't a legal eagle, the disputed section 9(H) of the Taft-Hartley act seems clear enough. It says:

"No investigation shall be made...unless there is on file with the board (a non-Communist) affidavit by each officer of such labor organization and the officers of any national or international labor organization of which it is an affiliate or constituent unit...."

Overruling its counsel, the NLRB has decided this clause doesn't apply to top officers of the AFL and the CIO because these organizations aren't unions, but affiliations of unions.

The principal demurring union leaders were John L Lewis and Philip Murray, who refused to sign non-Communist affidavits in their capacities as AFL and CIO officers respectively. If they now refuse to sign as officers of individual constituent unions, will the board revise its interpretation of the law again to accommodate them? On the basis of what it has read into section 9(H) so far, that may be the next step.

Snoek for Everybody

SOUTH AFRICA comes to the British motherland's aid with 10,000,000 cans of a fishy substance called snoek. No use spelling it backwards. That doesn't tell you anything.

Snoek is a fish that looks like barracuda and tastes like mackerel. South Africa has snoek to burn and is glad to send a large supply to hungry Britain.

Already surfeited with fish and fish pastes, the British probably are receiving their consignment of snoek with mixed emotions—like the hungry G.I. who flinched when he heard the rasp of an opener on a can of Spam.

Questions About Food

By MARK SULLIVAN

"Price Monday" Proposed to Truman Committee.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10—From the citizens food committee set up by President Truman, and from the administration generally, the country receives admonition to consume less food. The purpose is completely worthy, in a double sense—the humanitarian sense of providing food for hungry people in Europe, and as an aid to our policy of checking Communism and Russian domination by saving European countries from an economic misery that might further Russia's purposes.

The organization set up for this drive to reduce consumption of food has an immense and effective mechanism for reaching the public eyes and ears, and it finds the country in a receptive spirit. One might wish that the same organization would give some of its energy and effectiveness to enlightening the public on another aspect of food, the price of it. The committee might adopt, let us say, a "Price Monday," on which the public should be told the causes of the high prices of food—and be assured that the administration will take steps to reduce them.

The point is seen by Republican Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts. He noticed that the President's food committee has called for an "Eggless Thursday" each week. And he knew that far from scarcity of eggs, the government has on hand some 200 million dozen, acquired as an incident of the government's policy of supporting prices. And Senator Saltonstall knew what everyone else knows, that the price of eggs is high. So the senator wrote a letter to Chairman Luckman of the citizens food committee. "In view of the present price of eggs . . . I hope these egg products will be released as speedily as possible for the benefit of the consuming public."

It's Another Story

Senator Saltonstall's voice will ring loud. About the government practice of supporting prices for farm products, food, the administration does not court public attention. When one administration official, the one responsible for carrying out the policy, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, was put under pressure recently, he defended the policy.

The occasion was a questioning by reporters on the radio program "Meet The Press." The reporters put Secretary Anderson on the carpet about the department's practice of supporting prices of farm products, preventing them from falling, with emphasis in the reporters' questioning on one incident, the department's purchase of potatoes for the purpose of preventing fall in prices, and destruction of some of those bought.

Secretary Anderson, in defense, said that the whole broad policy of price support for farm products generally is embodied in acts of congress, and said firmly that so long as the laws are on the books he will carry them out. Turning to the political implication involved, he said that while the congresses that enacted these laws were Democratic, as large a proportion of Republicans as of Democrats had voted for them. Rather defiantly, Secretary Anderson said that he himself, when a member of congress, voted for the price support measures.

So long as Secretary Anderson defends government support of farm products, food, and so long as President Truman omits discussion of the subject, and so long as both are prominent in the public eye through their urging of one aspect of food, the reduction of consumption of it, their reticence on the other aspect, government support of food prices, is rather conspicuous.

Conflict of Policy

For the same reason some steps the administration has taken about prices of food seem a little hollow The administration calls for check on speculation in wheat. That is right enough. But the administration itself invites speculation by putting a "floor" under the price of wheat. The recent floor has been $1.83 a bushel, (higher at Chicago—where most speculation takes place) meaning that the government stands ready to make loans to farmers of that amount or buy wheat at that price. The floor is raised in proportion as the general price level goes up. Knowledge of the existence of a floor price is a motive for a farmer, if he chooses, to hold onto his wheat, and for speculators to buy wheat, they know that risk of loss by a drop in the price is limited by the government floor.

The statement by Senator Saltonstall that the government has on hand some 200 million dozen eggs and egg products will be an enlightenment to the public, and may cause the public to ask for more light. The light should include information of the quantities of other farm products, besides eggs, that the government has bought as an incident of supporting prices, and frank consideration of the whole policy of price support as it operates in a time of onerous high prices of food and danger of inflation.

We Bought an Enemy

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

DURING the war, a small group of newspapermen and publicists in this country warned the nation that this country was buying itself an enemy. They were attacked as fascists; smeared as unpatriotic; in some instances even regarded as seditionists. Some of them were indicted and tried. The fact is that we did buy ourselves an enemy and that they have now declared themselves as such by a public manifesto signed in Poland and they have opened an office in Belgrade to do us damage. The purchase price was $11,681,000,000. That is what we gave to Soviet Russia as a gift. We have given her satellites an additional $1,287,644,000 as gifts.

Altogether, the United States poured $66,000,000,000 into Europe and elsewhere assisting her allies during the war. No country assisted the United States. Lend-lease is the only instance of any return whatsoever, a total of $7,811,000,000 of reverse lend-lease against this country's contribution of $48,601,000,000 Soviet Russia contributed a mere $2,213,000 of reverse lend-lease against America's aid to her of $11,681,000,000—the Russian return being a mere token.

Get Undeserved Credit

The United States put up 70 per cent of UNRRA, amounting to $2,279,000,000: the Russians did not put up anything. Yet UNRRA was so manipulated that few of the peoples of Europe know what the United States did for them and many of them, particularly in the countries behind the iron curtain, believe that it was really Soviet Russia that assisted them. Every effort of this country to stabilize the economic life of Europe has met with antagonism. The most recent, the Marshall plan, which calls for a charitable contribution of at least $15,000,000,000, and probably $22,000,000,000 at great sacrifice to the American people is being attacked everywhere in Europe and Asia as "American imperialism," as "dollar slavery." Even our compassion is misrepresented by Soviet Russia and her agents.

These are the cold facts of our purchase of an enemy. Dollar diplomacy as practiced from 1938 to 1947, defeated Hitler but brought us face to face with a fiercer, a more dangerous, an equally if not more unscrupulous enemy. If you wish to appraise the value of $66,000,000,000, compare it with the total national income of the American people, which was $71,000,000,000 in 1937, $64,000,000,000 in 1938, $70,000,000,000 in 1939 It was as low as $40,000,000,000 in 1932. In other words, what this country gave to the world is not hay by any system of calculation. It is the irreplaceable natural resources of our land and the labor of our people. And we shall probably never get one cent of it back. If to that are added the contributions under the Marshall plan, America's gift to its allies, so-called friendly and peace-loving nations, will come close to $100,0000,000,000.

Fairly Generous

When to that is added the fact that the war cost us $300,000,000,000, it stands clear that this comparatively medium sized nation of 145,000,000 people has been handing out a tremendous amount of its wealth and that a very large part of the human race has been the willing recipient of its charity. In fact, there seems to be no objection to bleeding this country white until perhaps we died of productive anemia.

All the propaganda that comes out of Washington, London or Paris will not offset these figures. The efforts of the Luckman committee must be balanced against these figures The Communists, led by Russia, have met in Poland to reorganize the Third International and to wage a war of propaganda, deceit, conspiracy, and intrigue against the United States. They have now stepped into the open. They say that there will be no compromise.

Those nations which now say to us that it must be American dollars or they will go Communist have as much at stake as we have. They refuse to strengthen themselves by going to work. England is on a prolonged holiday. France is hoarding. Italy is playing with fire. All demand that this country subsidize them as we subsidized Russia in her war with Germany. Why should we pay these subsidies? What is to be gained? We were told that if we did not subsidize Stalin, Hitler would get us Now it is Stalin who is after us.

The Danger of Despair

By JOSEPH ALSOP

PARIS, Oct 10—Here in Paris, the chestnut trees are turning russet and the city glistens every morning in the peculiar silver-golden light of the French autumn. The most beautiful city in the world is in the most beautiful season of its changing year. It is difficult to remember that this surface of shining loveliness conceals a mounting insecurity, an increasing tendency to despair.

Then one passes through a poor quarter and observes that even the horse meat butcher—his trade announced by a gilded horse's head above his shop front—has no customers because his prices are too high, or at the other end of the scale, a minister hurriedly breaks an appointment to hasten to an emergency session of the committee to save the franc, composed of Premier Ramadier and his closest coadjutors. These signs, unhappily, disclose the inner reality. Because of insecurity and despair the people of France are being driven to the political extremes which are always the resort of men losing hope.

One extreme is of course the Communist party. The Communists are still enviably dynamic and effective leaders Although they have by now spent a good part of the hundreds of millions of dollars they stored in the confusion of the German collapse, they are still formidably well financed.

Strongly Organized

Their extraordinary peasant propaganda paper, "La Terre," advocating private property, the home, the family, high prices and long life for all kulaks, is expensively delivered to the smallest farm communities in France. Their effort in the labor unions is equally costly and efficient. For example, the unions in the small department of Loiret happen to be non-Communist. All the unions in the department can afford to maintain only one paid organizer. Yet in this single department, the Communists have no less than 15 known full-time organizers.

The Communists feed, of course, upon despair and insecurity. None the less, the French workers, who have a long tradition of highly democratic unionization, have had nearly four years of the familiar Communist party tactics in their unions—fixed union elections, intimidation and dictatorship of the party apparatus. An increasing number of them are thoroughly fed up The official non-Communist leaders, like the trembling old Jouhaux, are prisoners of their "allies" But new, younger men have taken the lead of an anti-Communist minority which has already made impressive showings within the miners, the postal workers, the railroad workers and several other vital unions. Take away the insecurity and despair which are the chief Communist assets, and they may well end by losing their main base in the labor movement.

Drift To Gaullists

Here in France, in fact, perhaps because the Communists made their bid too soon, the drift to the political extremes is currently chiefly manifesting itself in the Gaullist movement. An outsider must of course speak very carefully of this new political organization, which is now a true party and invites the adherence of members of all non-Communist parties. Yet certain points are apparent.

General de Gaulle, founder and leader of the movement, which he calls the "Rally of the French People," is still without doubt among France's few great men. Equally without doubt, he has no totalitarian ambitions and is detested by the sort of men who would most naturally hanker for French fascism—the rich French whom he bitterly offended by nationalizing basic industries and by insisting upon jailing their friends and relatives as collaborators. None the less, he has virtually no labor support. His appeal is to the little men of the center and the right.

Among these he has made extraordinary progress. Starting not very long ago, his movement is already organized in some fashion in tens of thousands of cities and communes and has between a million and a million and a half paid-up members who have subscribed their 120 francs apiece. The movement is intensely personal, based on de Gaulle's own appeal and openly detested by almost all French political professionals. It is, so to speak extraconstitutional. De Gaulle advocates scrapping the machinery of the Fourth Republic and writing a new Constitution rather on the American model, with a strong executive. Yet there also is something a little mythical about it. Even so brilliant and disillusioned a man as Andre Malraux, now a member of the de Gaulle brain trust, speaks of the need for releasing "a new political dynamism in France."

Their Last Resort

Furthermore, all the franker Gaullists, among whom are many impressively idealistic younger French people, admit that their hero will only be called to power when all others but the Communists have failed beyond repair. Currently they expect inadequate American aid in France's economic crisis to produce this result.

Under the circumstances, there is no need to make moral judgments—to say that Gaullism is of good or evil intention. For one obvious probability sticks out of the situation like a sore thumb. If insecurity and despair mount high enough in France, most expert observers believe that de Gaulle, rather than the Communists, will come to power But it is known that the French Communist executive committee voted, in mid-September, to call a general strike in this event. There is a pretty good chance, therefore, that whatever General de Gaulle's intentions may be, the outcome would be the outbreak of civil conflict and the emergence of a pattern grimly reminiscent of that in Spain. That is not a pleasant prospect for the future of France, for the future of Europe for the future.

U. S. AWAITS CROP FORECAST

Government Sees Chance Corn Yield May Be Above Previous Estimates.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10—The government looked anxiously to a new crop forecast today for a possible boost in the corn yield estimate which would ease the world grain shortage.

Despite signs of bettered midwest crop conditions, President Truman clearly was not banking on any great gain.

Public observance of meatless and eggless days is of "vital importance" in easing Europe's hunger, he told his weekly news conference.

Chairman Charles Luckman of the Citizens' Food committee, waiting for the verdict for their industries, said nationwide cooperation is essential to "the saving of peace."

The National Planning association declared that rationing of food to Americans is the only way to continue huge shipments to Europe without "another price explosion in the farm-food sector."

The association suggested to the house agriculture committee that bread consumption be slashed one third between now and the next wheat harvest.

Due at 3 p. m.

The new crop report, closely guarded within the agriculture department and awaited with unusual eagerness in the grain-conscious capital, was due for release at 3 p. m.

It contains the department's estimate of production of all major crops as of Oct. 1.

A boost of 100,000,000 bushels or so in the corn estimate, over the 2,403,913,000 forecast a month earlier, would go a long way toward making up the foreign deficit while maintaining a high level of livestock production in this country.

The production outlook on Sept. 1 indicated the crop might be the smallest since the severe 1936 drought, and 27 per cent smaller than last year's record crop of 3,287,000,000 bushels.

It was this prospect which led Mr. Truman to call upon Americans to conserve food so that acute foreign needs might be met.

Agriculture department officials expressed the belief that the public would be asked to continue saving for three reasons:

(1) To make more than 570,000,000 bushels available for shortage areas, (2) to prevent further advances in food prices at home, and (3) to help maintain a wheat reserve for use in event next year's crop should turn out poorly.

"Vital Importance"

Mr. Truman replied heatedly to a questioner's suggestion that the meatless, eggless and poultryless days were of secondary importance. Permitting direct quotation, he declared they were of "vital importance" in the saving of grain.

It was known that rumbles of criticism from within the government, directed specifically at the poultry and egg saving have reached the Luckman committee.

The complaints were based on the theory that a drop in demand for chickens would simply induce farmers to delay killing them—and to keep on feeding them grain.

Representatives of the nation's brewers assembled in Chicago, meanwhile, to deliberate Luckman's request for "substantially increased savings" over those they have already offered.

A spokesman for the distilled spirits institute, representing 60 per cent of the industry, said such a shutdown would cause the layoff of 30,000 workers.

D. A. R. Chapter Hears Address By Cong. Smith

STOPPING federal spending, cutting taxes and living within our means are three ways to restore national normal living, Congressman Frederick C Smith told members of Captain William Hendricks Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and their guests last night at Hotel Harding

The occasion was the October meeting of the chapter and friends of the members were invited to join them for the program hour. A short business session was held by the chapter before the program.

Congressman Smith talked on "Un-American Activities." Laxness in the regulation of currency he said, is responsible for the present socialistic tendencies and inflation and expressed the opinion that "we have too much national policy." He urged the abandoning of bureaucracies, declaring this would be a great help in getting back to normal national living, particularly in the building of homes and told his audience that the United States should have stayed on the gold standard. "No organization," he said, "is more fitted than the Daughters of the American Revolution to carry on the spirit of democracy."

Following the talk there was a question period and discussion.

Mrs J. C Turner regent, presented the speaker and also presided for the chapter's business session. Mrs O. G Morral conducted the devotions

Hostesses were Mrs C L. Rutherford, Mrs Fanny Benson, Mrs D D Clifton, Mrs. B H. Gast and Mrs. M. H Gast.

Sure We Save USED FAT on the 20th Century!

says New York Central 20th Century Chef, JOSEPH RUSCH

Even in the limited space of a train galley, it's a New York Central rule that used fats be saved. Why? Because, folks, our government says every pound of used fats should be saved to help relieve a world shortage that is still critical. Last July, for example, our dining cars and commissaries turned in almost five thousand pounds. And we're keeping at it. So if you're not saving fats as regularly as you used to, won't you get back in the habit? Every drop is still needed!

Dog Vaccine Stops Rabies

ssful Program Tried in York Reported to Health Officers.

LTON L. BLAKESLEE
ated Press Science Reporter

NTIC CITY, Oct. 10—Vac- clinics for dogs that ldfire spread of rabies orted to the American Health association Wednes- Dr. Robert F. Korns and ander Zeissig of the New ate health department, emic of rabies broke animals in upstate New 1944-1947, with nearly a increase over the normal s infected each year, Dr. said. The epidemic was because the rabies spread and to cattle.

two-year program, anti- accine was given to dogs counties, and in 12 counties s were revaccinated. In 10 counties particularly, he dog rabies has essentially ared while fox and cattle continued to occur. These ies vaccinated more than cent of their dogs. The attack rate in vaccinated dogs has been only one-eighteenth of that in non-vaccinated dogs, Dr. Korns said.

Foxes Trapped

Foxes are being trapped with apparent success to combat rabies in those animals, he added. Except for one human case in 1945 and another in 1944, there has been no human rabies in upstate New York since 1930, he said.

A survey indicating that dogs may be the source of some salmonella infections in humans was reported by Arthur H. Wolff, Norman D. Henderson, and Grace L. McCallum of the Michigan state health department, Lansing.

The salmonella infections are caused by germs closely related to typhoid bacilli.

In man they cause acute intestinal ailments, sometimes severe blood infections, and may be fatal in children. Dogs frequently may be carriers of the germs, they said.

Anthrax Reported

The first case of anthrax, and a fatal one, traced to elephant tusks was reported by Drs. Roy M. Seideman and Kenneth M Wheeler of the Connecticut state health department, Hartford. The victim was a worker in a piano-key industry and had been sawing elephant tusks imported from Africa

Anthrax is a deadly disease which in the United States is chiefly an occupational hazard among dock workers or persons handling leather, wool, hair and horns.

The ivory tusks may have become contaminated with anthrax organisms because of infection in the elephant, or from contact with other animal products during shipment, they said. Until raw ivory can be sterilized without damage to its quality, persons who work with it should be taught sanitary precautions and prompt reporting of any skin infections, they declared.

400 Hear Buck Rogers Artist Discuss Life of "Space" Hero

By WILLIAM R. DIEM

Dick Calkins, creator of the adventure strip "Buck Rogers," gave a chalk talk to about 400 persons at the Foremen's club banquet in the Masonic temple Thursday night.

Illustrating his talk with drawings of characters from his widely published adventure strip, Calkins topped off the show by making monkeys out of the written initials of H. E. "Hop" Webster, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and Harold H. Douthitt, personnel director of the Marion Steam Shovel Co.

Drawing his cartoons in colored chalk on a board in front of the audience, Calkins pictured such famous comic strip characters as his Dr. Huer, inventor of atom power, space ships, refractorscopes, and just about everything that keeps Buck Rogers in and out of trouble, Buck himself, his fiancee of 17 years' standing, Wilma, and a cartoon of himself. Calkins pictured Dr. Huer's refracterscope that allows one to see around the world and his space ship with "high carbon steel" windows colored red to keep out the powerful sunlight. Admitting that the space ship he pictured was an old model, Calkins said it made only triple-luminary speed—that is, went only 267,000 miles per second.

Tough Life

In his remarks to the audience, Calkins pictured the tough lot of a cartoonist. Comic strip heroes can't smoke, cuss, or even grow older. While the kids want four murders on every page, their parents don't want any. Just about all Buck can say to register consternation when he's lost an arm is "My goodness."

And just let the cartoonist forget to have his hero carry a regular piece of equipment around and some youngster in Keokuk, Iowa, writes in demanding to know "What happened to the triple-suspension recoil ray gun model B-54831 type X-72 that Buck was holding in his left hand Oct. 6?"

Calkins created Buck Rogers in 1929, and Buck's been visiting planets ever since. He's still 21 years old and he's still courting the beautiful blonde, Wilma—which shows loyalty, at least, says Calkins. Since Buck has no father, Calkins has taken it upon himself to act as his grandfather.

New "Inventions"

When Calkins draws a new invention for his adventure strip—and he has to keep at it or the scientists steal his stuff—he generally draws first and explains afterwards. For instance, his space ships have red windows because he picked up the red color first. He explains the color by saying that the red keeps out infra-red rays of sunlight, which are more powerful in space, naturally.

Mr. Douthitt, master of ceremonies at the ladies' night banquet, announced the appointment of Bob Scott as entertainment chairman, and a proposed visit to the Lima Locomotive Works on the Foremen's club's next meeting Nov. 18. Membership in the Marion Foremen's club has reached 350, he said, which is up about 100 over last year.

Luckman, Anderson Said To Split on "Less" Days

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 — Charles Luckman, chairman of the Citizens' Food committee was reported today to have broken with Secretary of Agriculture Anderson on the administration's food conservation program.

Luckman's sentiments were reported as President Truman differed with Anderson on the importance of meatless Tuesdays and poultryless and eggless Thursdays in saving grain for European relief.

Reliable sources said that Luckman has told friends that Anderson "pulled the rug out from under me." The food committee chairman presumably was referring to statements by Anderson that meatless and eggless days "are merely symbols."

Argentina To Expel Yugoslav Diplomats

By The Associated Press

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 10—Two Yugoslav diplomats, due in Buenos Aires today after being expelled from Chile on charges of "Communist agitation," will be asked to leave Argentina if they fail to quit the country voluntarily, a high government source announced.

Reporters who boarded the train bringing the two men—Andrej Cunja, charge d'affaires at Santiago, and Dalibor Jakasa, secretary of the Yugoslav legation here—from Mendoza to Buenos Aires were unable to find them last night.

The Yugoslav legation said the men were on the train.

ROOSEVELT, TRUMAN BLAMED FOR STRIFE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 10—The Democratic administrations of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, says Senator Robert A. Taft, never "had a will to peace," and "the present confusion and unfortunate condition of the world today is due to Democratic politics.

The Ohio Republican, chairman of the senate policy committee, reviewed Republican foreign policy principles and discussed high prices in two addresses last night at North Shore suburban communities. (Taft, in a speech in Tocoma, Wash, Sept. 25, detailed the party's foreign policy principles).

At a Republican rally in Winnetka, Taft criticized what he termed the Truman administration's "soft attitude toward Russia, a theory that if Stalin is given everything he wanted he would turn out to be an agel of light and lead us to peace."

He told the rally that one of the major reasons "there are high prices today is because there have been no restraints on export. We gave the President power to limit exports but he did not do so."

At a dinner in suburban Highland Park, Taft told a group of Republicans that "it looks as if we will be back in congress by Dec. 1 on the subject of foreign affairs."

There were picket lines outside the high school gymnasium where Taft spoke before a crowd of 3,500, but the lines were different from those he crossed on his recent western tour.

High school students in the heavily Republican North Shore area paraded with signs which read: "Democrats are punch drunk because Taft pulls no punches"; "Taft struck out the striker," and "Taft is one braintruster we can trust."

Reece Says World Now Waging Undeclared War

By The Associated Press

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct 10—Republican Chairman Carroll Reece said today an "undeclared world-wide conflict" is now raging which "could flare into open hostilities at any moment."

It is the "manifest destiny" of the Republicans, he said, to provide this nation with leadership in the "perilous years just ahead."

He asserted the Democratic party has permitted a "threatening and pro-Communist faction" to develop within it, and through a policy of "economic cannibalism" has brought a cut in productive facilities at a time when American output is needed most.

No Casualties Reported In Iwo Jima Typhoon

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, Oct. 10—An American oclony of 1,000 men, women and children was safe on tiny Iwo Jima today and the typhoon which scourged it with 170-mile winds curled toward Okinawa and Japan.

There still were no details of the havoc wrought yesterday on the volcanic spit of land 900 miles southeast of Tokyo save an early, indirect report from Guam that all buildings were blown down or damaged.

Relief planes were ready at Tokyo and Guam to fly to the aid of the Air Force personnel, Coast Guardsmen and their families if help is needed.

SENATE MOVES UP DATE FOR NEW HUGHES HEARING

Originally Scheduled Day Conflicts with Aid-Europe Meeting.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10—Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) announced Thursday a senate war investigating subcommittee will reopen public hearings on Howard Hughes' wartime plane contracts before Nov. 17, the date previously set for the resumption.

Ferguson told reporters he had not fixed a definite date and not notified Hughes, Hollywood millionaire or other witnesses of the change in plans.

He explained he had decided to advance the inquiry because the senate appropriations committee had been called to meet Nov. 18 on European aid problems and he wanted to attend.

The hearing on the $40,000,000 contracts awarded Hughes recessed abruptly Aug. 11 after a bitter scrap between the aircraft maker and Chairman Brewster (R-Me) of the full committee. Hughes charged that Brewster offered to call off the probe provided Hughes merged Trans-World Airlines, which he controls, with the Pan-American Airways. Brewster denied the charge.

[illegible] Discovers Wait For Fare Will Be Long

By The Associated Press

[illegible]LAND, Oct. 10—"Wait [illegible] Mrs. Gertrude Mullens to the taxi driver who brought her to federal court here from Barberton, O—about a 30-mile trip.

Then she went inside to answer charges of illegally receiving $2,936 in government allotment checks.

Hours later, the impatient driver entered the U. S. marshal's office. He found her—in a cell—and she paid the $28 fare and told him he'd better go back to Barberton alone.

She had just been sentenced to a year and a day in prison by Judge Paul Jones.

HIKE IN NEWSPRINT CALLED "INEVITABLE"

By The Associated Press

TORONTO, Oct. 10—An inevitable rise in the price of newsprint was indicated strongly yesterday in testimony given by American and Canadian paper publishers before a U. S. congressional committee.

"It is inconceivable that the price of newsprint should not advance," George H. Mead, Dayton, O., paper producer, asserted yesterday to congressmen, producers and publishers attending newsprint conferences here. "Today's price, in view of other prices, is not a fair price."

Canadian producers declined to state flatly whether prices would rise, but Douglas W. Ambridge, president of the Abitibi Power and Paper Company, told the house newsprint committee that prices would depend on the economy of the U. S.

"What are you going to do in the United States of America?" he asked. "We're tied right to you."

If labor and other costs rise, Ambridge said, production costs will follow.

No matter how far south wild ducks fly in winter, they always return to the same northern nesting grounds in summer.

Unfair Labor Practices Suit Against Printers Serves as Example of New Law's Operation

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, Oct. 10—The nation's first case in which an employer charges a union with "unfair labor practices," scheduled for a hearing here next Tuesday, serves as a practical example of how the government plans to handle labor disputes under the Taft-Hartley law.

The hearing will be one of several steps taken by the Fifth regional office of the national labor relations board here in an attempt to settle the typographical dispute.

The case involves a charge by the Graphic Arts league of Baltimore against the International Typograhpical union (AFL) and its affiliated Baltimore Local No. 12.

The Graphic Arts league, bargaining agent for 22 Baltimore print shops, accuses the union of "failure to bargain collectively." The Taft-Hartley law, which went into effect Aug. 22, is the first to provide for such charges against unions.

The case exemplifies procedures of the Fifth regional office here, which handles labor disputes in Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, the District of Columbia and parts of West Virginia and Delaware, and is typical of procedures in other regions.

Charges were filed with Regional Director Ross M. Madden by the Graphic Arts league. These steps then followed:

Series of Steps

1. Madden assigned field staff members to investigate the charge. At this stage, the NLRB could have withdrawn or dismissed the charge, subject to appeal to the five-member labor relations board in Washington.

2. Madden, through NLRB Counsel Robert N. Denham, the agency's top prosecutor in Washington, issued an official complaint on Sept. 23. He set Oct. 6 for a public hearing.

The complaint maintained that the ITL and its local "refused and continues to refuse to bargain collectively in good faith, * * *

"Have restrained and coerced" employes by "attempting to impose and imposing upon employes of the companies certain 'conditions of employment' requiring said employes, as a condition of employment, to obtain and maintain membership" in the ITU.

This, in effect, charged that the ITU was seeking to "impose" a closed shop, outlawed by the Taft-Hartley act.

No-Contract Resolution

The ITU international, at a recent convention in Cleveland, resolved not to sign contracts but to seek the posting of "conditions of employment" arrived at without formal agreements.

3. An answer to the complaint was then filed by the parent and local unions.

4. Next step, under NLRB procedure, was to give both sides "every opportunity" for a "stipulation settlement," under which both would waive their right to a hearing and the board would issue a formal order covering the terms of the agreement.

The 1947 contract covering the Graphic Arts league members expired Sept. 30, and two days before—on Sept. 28—the Baltimore local announced that it had offered to sign a contract. Terms were not announced.

Union officials said the contract offer was made with the approval of the international's executive board, despite the board's "no contract" policy. Several meetings were held the following week, but no agreement was reached.

Hearing Postponed

At a union request, the NLRB later postponed the hearing date from Oct. 6 to Oct. 14.

5. The NLRB hearing: it will be conducted like a court trial. Instead of a judge, an NLRB trial examiner, named by the board in Washington, will preside. A regional attorney will present the government's case. Defense lawyers and company lawyers—who aid the government in producing evidence—may call and cross-examine witnesses.

6. The trial examiner then makes an "intermediate report," giving his recommended decision. He either dismisses the case or recommends a "cease and desist" order.

7. This decision then goes to the board in Washington; if there are no exceptions, the board approves the decision and the case is closed.

Can File Exceptions

However, attorneys for either side may file exceptions to the trial examiner's decision. In that event, the board reviews the "entire record" and "may adopt, modify or reject the findings and recommendations of the trial examiner." About 80 or 90 per cent of cases in this area are thus reviewed, as a result of exceptions.

8. The NLRB decision may be appealed to the circuit court of appeals. The court in turn may "enforce, modify or set aside in whole or in part the board's findings and order, or it may remand the case to the board for further proceedings."

If the "respondent," or defendant, fails to comply with the board decision, the NLRB may go to the same federal court, which, if the findings are sustained, may declare the respondent in contempt of court.

The case finally may be appealed to the U. S. supreme court.

Upper Truck Driver Bound to Jury

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Oct. 10—An Upper Sandusky truck driver, Frederick Smith, had been bound over to the Wyandot county grand jury today after a hearing in the court of Justice of the Peace W. P. Rowland, under a $500 bond.

An U. S. Commission Co. employe, Smith pleaded guilty to operating a Commission Co. truck without the owners consent. He was taken into custody recently by Deputy Sheriff Karl Stansbery when the truck was considerably damaged as Smith failed to make a curve at the south end of Sandusky avenue.

EISLERS OUT ON BOND. Hanns Eisler, film song writer, and his wife, Louise, are released on $1,500 bond after surrender to U. S. immigration officers in Los Angeles. Warrants for the couple's arrest for deportation proceedings allege they obtained visas by misrepresentation, in that Eisler denied membership in the Communist party. (International photo).

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

A Wartime Disease

Infectious hepatitis is an old disease in which the war revived new interest. Under its old name of catarrhal jaundice, it has been known over the centuries as one of the most persistent camp-followers of war.

In the Civil War, for instance, more than 50,000 cases were reported and, during the war just past, it was responsible for more casualties than some of our biggest battles.

Cause Not Known

Just what causes this disease is not definitely known, but, whatever it is, the organism must thrive under the crowded conditions of war. This would tend to bear out the suggestion that a virus may be responsible. A virus is the smallest of disease-causers, so small that it cannot be seen even with the most powerful electron microscopes. Because viruses cannot be studied by ordinary scientific methods, we still know much less than we would like to about the true nature of these little trouble-makers with the big wallop.

Since infectious hepatitis causes inflammation of the liver, its chief symptom is jaundice or a greenish-yellow discoloration of the skin. However, other symptoms appear three or four or even ten days before the jaundice develops. These consist of a feeling of sickness, loss of appetite, sickness to the stomach and vomiting. Constipation is usually present. There may also be headache, pain in the abdomen, and now and then pain in the joints. There often is fever.

Making A Diagnosis

During this period before the jaundice develops, it may be difficult to make a diagnosis of hepatitis. However, when the jaundice occurs, taken together with the other symptoms, it is usually not difficult to tell quickly that infectious hepatitis is present.

Once the jaundice has developed, the patient begins to improve rapidly. Within three weeks, about nine out of every ten patients have recovered.

In about half the patients, there may be some enlargement of the liver and of the spleen, which is located in the upper left part of the abdomen.

A Mild Disease

In the majority of cases, infectious hepatitis is a mild disease and gets well of itself in about three weeks. Occasionally, however, it may be much more serious. In some cases, after it has apparently cleared up, it may recur.

In treating this disorder, the patient is put to bed at complete rest and kept there until the jaundice begins to disappear. The return to full activity, however, is not made until all traces of the jaundice are gone.

The diet need not be restricted. However, many of the patients with this condition lose their appetite so the problem is one of getting enough food into them. The diet should be kept well balanced.

Relieving the Condition

The constipation may be relieved by the giving of an enema or injection of fluid into the lower bowel.

Itching, which is often present and troublesome, may be treated with some lotion to relieve it or by the giving of a new drug known as benadryl. Quieting drugs or substances, such as the barbiturates also may be employed.

In severe cases of infectious hepatitis, injections of blood into a vein and the injection of salt and sugar solutions into a vein are often lifesaving measures.

QUESTION AND ANSWERS

Q.: I have a great deal of trouble sleeping at night. Would you tell me what I might do about it?

Answer: There are many causes of sleeplessness, among them being overeating, worry, insufficient ventilation, lack of quiet or darkness, wrong temperature of the room, overheating or cooling of the body, as well as too much mental exertion during the day. Abuse of alcohol, tea, coffee, or tobacco will also cause sleeplessness.

Several things are helpful in overcoming this condition. You should exercise moderately in the outdoors one or two hours each day and sleep in a cool room with not too many covers. You should not engage in any studying or work which arouses the mind for at least one hour before retiring.

It was on the well-curb of Fort Crailo in Rensselear, N. Y., that Dr. Richard Shuckburg, a British army surgeon, sat watching the Colonial troops gather in 1758 and whistled the tune and composed the satirical verses of "Yankee Doodle."

Buckingham Palace Spruced Up For Royal Wedding Next Month

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 10—Damaged by German bombs and showing the wear and tear of the austerity age, Buckingham palace is being restored to something like its old time splendor for the November wedding of Princess Elizabeth.

Although King George VI steadfastly turned down all suggestions for refurnishing projects which called for unnecessary spending of money and use of labor and materials, it was obvious that the ancient seat of sovereigns had to undergo a face lifting.

An atmosphere of urgent industry envelops the stately premises, and the noises created by carpenters and stone masons compete with the orchestrations accompanying the changing of the guards, crowds, gathering daily for the double spectacle, gaze at the huge scaffolding, concrete mixers, the swift movement of mechanics and their helpers, the comings and goings of decorators and their experts, all clearly conscious of the importance of their tasks.

People Want Style

With the wedding of heir presumptive and Philip Mountbatten only a few weeks away, these craftsmen—and practically everybody else—know that the waiting millions, here and abroad, will expect a little style and glamor. The times may be grim, but kings cannot suspend the grand manner altogether.

One of the prime exterior jobs is to repair the famous balcony on which royalty has made historic appearances for generations.

The shaking up which the palsce suffered in wartime so weakened the baloncy that repairs were necessary to make it safe. Forf a while it was rumored that Princess Elizabeth and Young Mountbatten might not be able to appear publicly at the palace on their wedding day, and howls of preliminary disappointment echoed in the newspapers and in the pubs.

It seems certain now, however, the people's desire for this traditional presence on the balcony will be gratified. What is more, there probably will be flood-lighting at the palace, the single exception to an announced rule against special illumination in London generally.

Interior Gets Repairs

Much has been going on also behind the massive front of old "buck house." The 12 state rooms have reverted to their prewar impressiveness, their appointments, removed for safety at outbreak hostilities have been returned and given fresh luster. Privileged guests will view magnificient cut glass chandeliers, celebrated portraits of members of British dynasties, crimson and gold carpets, upholstery of that soft blue which Queen Elizabeth finds enorously attractive, silks in dusty gold and pastel shades, and Regency furniture.

Gray canvas overlays the carpets and rugs now, and dust covers protect the chairs, sofas, settees, pianos, clocks and other furnishings. The visitor to the palace is led by roundabout passage to household offices which share in the temporary displacements; and the policemen at the main gates remark that they hardly know where to find anybody anymore.

One of these privileged bobbies, a beefy six-footer, rubbed his wide red face, shot a glance at the Queen Victoria statute in front of the palace, and said: "D'you suppose it was something like this in her time, too?"

Mrs. Herbert Brewer Hostess to Circle

Mrs. Herbert Brewer was hostess to the Judson Circle of Trinity Baptist church Wednesday afternoon at her home on the Upper Sandusky road. A song by the group opened the meeting, followed by devotions by Mrs. James Kerr. Mrs. D. D. Hinamon, president, presided.

Articles for the White Cross boxes were collected and are to be packed at the church Thursday, Oct. 16, for shipment overseas. Mrs. Brewer read several letters from home and foreign missionaries. An announcement was made of the annual dinner meeting to be held Nov. 6 at 6:30 p. m. at the church. Mrs. James Kerr was named to be in charge of decorations, and Mrs. Fred Hinamon in charge of the menu. Mrs. D. W. Hinamon gave a talk on her recent trip west.

Bandages were rolled during the work hour. Guests were Mrs. Troy McClure, Mrs. J. R. McCain, Mrs. Aria Hinamon, Miss Louise Hinamon, Miss Mary Catherine Brewer, Miss Mary Kay Hinamon and Diana and Julia Ann Brewer. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Miss Mary Kathryn Brewer. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Harry Francis near Morral.

Mt. Gilead Services Drawing Large Crowds

Revival services in progress at the Mt. Gilead Church of the Nazarene with Rev. Fred Thomas of Elkhart, Ind., as evangelist, is drawing large crowds, Rev. W. W. Loveless, pastor, reported, and a number have responded to altar calls. Sunday morning a unified service will be conducted. At that time, Rev. Thomas will tell the story of his life including his struggle to overcome a speech handicap, and his call to preach at an early age.

Throughout his ministry of 25 years, begun at the age of 12, he has conducted many meetings with good results, it was stated. Services, open to the public, will be held each night remaining this week and will close Sunday night, Rev. Loveless said. Goal for the Sunday morning service is attendance of 200.

A program has been planned for the young people's service at 6:45 p. m. Sunday, it was announced. Tuesday night, the church board will meet at the parsonage.

HARDING TO PLAY HERE TONIGHT, IRISH AT MARYSVILLE

Case of Leo Durocher Shapes As One of Top Sports Puzzles

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 10—The case of Leo Durocher was shaping up today as one of the greatest mystery dramas in sports history, a melodramatic thriller in which the question was whether you kick a guy when you've got him down.

Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, currently is debating the issue as he sets the stage for the unwritten finale.

I've read the script up to now very closely and this is just to say that I stand solidly at the side of Durocher.

Baseball is a hard, cold, dollars and cents business, in connection with that, Durocher in this corner is the best manager in baseball.

If you are talking morals, they still have to prove the Lip unfit. The only thing criminal about Leo is that he is a cocky, bombastic popoff. A lot of us are lucky you can't be sent to jail for that.

Banning Is Mystery

But the fact remains that nobody knows yet just why Durocher was banned a year from baseball.

Commissioner A. B. Chandler set him down a year "for conduct detrimental to baseball" and because he was "involved in a series of unpleasant incidents."

That followed a Yankee-Dodger feud in which Larry MacPhail was accused of entertaining gamblers in his box at Havana. There are those who insist that MacPhail and Rickey were too powerful to handle, so Chandler made Durocher the fall guy to prove himself commissioner.

Certainly Chandler owed it to Durocher to give reasons.

Naturally you can air a lot of dirty wash when a man who plays it hard and fast like Leo lives in the limelight. Go back to the fan flattening incident where Durocher was charged with assault and battery.

I talked to a dozen ballplayers who said they would have hit the fan involved. They are right when they say they aren't paid to listen to obscenities.

Marriage Cited

Then there were the intricacies of his marriage to Laraine Day. They would have had to wait a year in California, so they obtained a Mexican divorce. It happens constantly among highly honored citizens.

There was that African polo game in Durocher's apartment where actor George Raft allegedly cleaned up. Durocher wasn't there, and there certainly isn't anything wrong with having friends among show people.

All those things, the fan incident, the Raft affair and Leo's personal affairs, were behind Durocher when Chandler gave him a clean bill of health last winter. Then suddenly the roof caved in and he was the fall guy.

Now he has had his punishment, regardless of whether or not it was deserved. There are jockeys riding today who have been set down "for life" not once, but several times There are ballplayers who have criminal records and fighters of the same ilk, and at least one coach in the majors who once was involved in gambling charges

Even a hardened criminal, when his time is up, gets a pat on the back and a chance to go straight

But Durocher is no criminal. He's just a guy who never dodged an issue and belongs back at the helm of the most battling club in baseball, one which he made a national favorite.

Omaha Tie Just Rumor, Says Joe Roseberry

The rumor about town that pitcher Joe Roseberry, who won 21 and lost nine games for the Marion Cubs last year and earned a 13-6 record for the class C Winston Salem club this season, will move on to Omaha in 1948 is just a rumor, says Joe. He hasn't heard anything about a deal sending him on to the class A Omaha club.

Joe earned a batting average of 327 with the Carolina league club this season playing in 29 games. He played right field in 10 games toward the end of the season, including the league playoffs, and it looks as if he'll spend most of his time in the outfield from now on.

FESLER REVAMPS OHIO STATE LINEUP

Only Three Original Linemen To Start Saturday.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 10—Coach Wes Fesler today announced a revamped Ohio State university forward wall for the Southern California game Saturday that included only three men who started against Missouri and Purdue.

The Buckeye headman promised line changes last week after the Purdue Boilermakers rolled the Bucks to a 21-20 defeat. The new forwards average 30 pounds more than the old setup.

Captain Bob Jabbusch was among those moved back to second string spots when Fesler sought to strengthen the line.

Only Wilson, Jennings and Templeton were holdovers from the starting line against Purdue and Missouri.

Dean Sensanbaugher was reported available at left halfback after hobbling for a week with an ankle injury. Jim Clark was named at right halfback, Joe Whisler or Ollie Cline, fullback, and Pandel Savic, quarter replacing Dick Slager.

Fesler indicated some changes might occur if the Bucks kicked off. Following the usual light limbering up drill on the stadium turf today, the Ohio squad goes to Magnetic Springs for the night. Coach Jeff Cravath and 44 Trojan players reach Columbus tonight.

With a crowd of more than 75,000 expected, the Ohio State ticket office reported only 300 south bleacher tickets still unsold.

HOUND FIELD TRIALS SET FOR NEXT WEEK

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

POMEROY, O., Oct. 10—These frost-touched Meigs county hills will echo to the baying of hounds next week as the Ohio State Fox-hunters Association, Inc., stages its annual field trials and bench show.

The colorful chase, which has been held annually over the last quarter-century, has attracted entries from West Virginia, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, New Hampshire and Tennessee in the past, and Floyd Swiger of Piketon, secretary of the group, believes most of these states will be represented again.

The bench show is booked here Monday evening with derby field trial for hounds whelped in 1946 or 1947 the Tuesday and Wednesday feature. The big event, the all-age trials, is scheduled Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

B. A Skipper, rancher from Encino, Tex., will judge the bench show, in which about 300 hounds are expected to be entered.

Weidner Takes Kohen In Wrestling Match

Billy Weidner took Sammy Kohen in two out of three falls in the 90 minute main wrestling event at the Armory last night. Weidner won the last fall despite an injured knee.

Herb Parks took two straight falls to win the 45 minute semi-finals over Eddie Williams.

Gorilla Page was the first man out of the battle royal that began the wrestling event, earning but his expenses and a shower.

Prexies Tackle Lima South, St. Mary Battles for Title

Program for Band Night Booked for Stadium Game.

Harding High school entertains Lima South tonight in a Band Night football game slated to start at 8 p. m. at the Stadium.

Still uncertain whether or not regular tackle Jack Hoffman will be able to start against Lima South, Harding Coach Pete Howson said that if Hoffman isn't ready, he'll move guard Dick Corwin into the tackle slot and put substitute Lloyd Williams in as guard.

Hoffman sustained a shoulder injury in the Harding-Uhrichsville game last week that may turn out to be a chipped shoulder bone.

Brushes Up On Plays

Corwin, a regular right guard, has been brushing up on tackle plays in practice sessions this week to be ready to take over the assignment should he be needed. Regular left tackle Bob Ralston will probaby start on the other side.

"Punk" Williams has played a lot of relief guard in games this year and Line Coach Howard Thomas says the 156-pound sophomore should be ready to handle the position. Paul Menzer will probably start at left guard

Other regular starters for Harding: ends, Gene Peadon and Jack Bishop, center, Bob Short; backs, Dick Leffler calling signals, Jim Coss and Jim Hill at the halves, and Clarence Smith at fullback

Defensive Lineup

Should the Prexies receive the opening kickoff, halfback Dick Gherman will probably replace Leffler, and center Merle Daum may start as a defensive back.

Probable starting lineup for Lima South: ends, Don Brogee and Gene Johnson, tackles, Charles Clifton and Jack Harmon, guards, Frank Polutnik and Dick Thomas, center Carey Converse, quarterback, Ned Myers, halfbacks, Dick Putt and Norman Downing, and fullback, Bob Williams.

Ceremonies honoring the work of both the Harding and the Lima South bands are scheduled to be held at half time along with band formations.

DRAFT MEETING SET

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10—Baseball's annual grab bag game will be played in the office of Commissioner A. B. Chandler here Monday morning, Nov. 10. Game time: 11 o'clock. The date and time of the 1947 major league draft meeting was announced by the commissioner's office yesterday.

Loop Lead Likely To Be Decided in Union Co. Tilt.

St. Mary Irish gridders leave tonight for Marysville where they'll meet the defending champions of the Mid-State league in a homecoming battle that will probably decide the 1947 league champions

The Marysville Monarchs are undefeated in four games this season and will be trying to keep the slate clean.

St. Mary, tied with the Monarchs for league leadership with a game apiece, will be out to avenge a 7-8 defeat by Marysville last year.

The game will probably be a close one again this year.

Might Rate Edge

With any other opponent of equal power, Marysville might rate a slight edge on the strength of the Homecoming crowd support, but the Irish have a habit of winning their away games They won over the Delaware Willis, Carey, and Tiffin Calvert, and lost their only home game to Lima St. Rose

The Monarchs have had trouble finding the winning punch in two of their four games this season. They tied Worthington and Bellefontaine, and won over Richwood last week by two conversions. Mechanicsburg fell to the Monarchs, 12-0.

Irish Lineup

FIRST DEFEAT SEEN FOR TWO OHIO 11'S

John Carroll and Wilberforce State May Lose Tonight.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 10—Two of Ohio's 13 undefeated college grid squads stand a fifty-fifty chance of dropping their first decisions of the season.

John Carroll's Blue Streaks, with 74 points to 14 for two opponents, are rated only even against Xaviers Musketeers, beaten 20-7 by Kentucky last week.

Wilberforce State's team, with two victories, clashes with Tuskegee at Chicago and the southern club rates an edge.

Findlay's Oilers whose 164 points led the state, were heavy favorites over Ohio Northern Polar Bears, who have failed to score in two games.

Ashland and Defiance profile tonight's fourth contest. Both have divided in two games

Cadets Picked To Win Again; Southern Cal To Take O. S. U.

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 10—Army's unbeaten string will have to stop sometime but it will carry on through tomorrow when the Cadets tangle with Illinois in Yankee stadium before some 71,[illegible] spectators—at least that is the opinion of this forecaster who last week had 43 winners and nine losers

Both teams have potent lines with backfields that are above average. Both are regarded primarily as defensive units.

But Army has three things in its favor: first, the game will be played in Yankee stadium, virtually the Cadets' home field; secondly, Army remembers that Illinois not the Rose Bowl bid a year ago when the Cadets believe they deserved it; third, protecting that 30-game unbeaten streak has become a West Point religion

Other selections:

Southern California-Ohio State: even if you toss out the Buckeyes surprise loss to Purdue last weekend, the Trojans still would rate the call. Especially if Mr Tannehill is in shape to play. Southern California

Yale-Columbia: Jackson and Rotering are out of the Eli lineup and all of the Columbia casualties are healed. Columbia, in a scoring thriller.

Pittsburgh-Michigan: For the third straight weekend Pittsburgh will be defeated and Michigan will triumph.

Oklahoma-Texas: Bobby Layne and his Longhorn mates will be on display before the home folks at the Texas state fair. That's incentive enough. Texas

Notre Dame-Purdue: You can't expect Purdue to perform miracles every Saturday. Notre Dame

Duke-Navy: George Clark will see to it that the Midshipmen suffer another defeat Duke

California-Wisconsin: Pappy Waldorf at California has a real football team. California.

Mississippi-Vanderbilt: The Commodores haven't seen the likes of the Conerly-to-[illegible] passing combination—and will regret making this acquaintance. Mississippi.

Indiana-Iowa: If the Hawkeyes are to save anything from a season that started on such a [illegible] note this is their chance. [illegible]

Skipping over the rest in a hurry:

Penn over Dartmouth, Penn State over Fordham, Temple over Syracuse, Villanova over Holy Cross.

Detroit over Marquette, Minnesota over Northwestern, Cincinnati over Dayton. Miami (O) over Bowling Green.

Arkansas over Baylor. Hardin-Simmons over Arizona, T[illegible] over Texas Tech.

Georgia over Kentucky, Alabama over Duquesne, North Carolina over Wake Forest.

Missouri over Colorado, Michigan State over Washington State, Oregon State over Idaho, Stanford over Santa Clara, U.C.L.A. over Oregon.

BUCKNELL PUSHES DRILL

LEWISBURG, Pa., Oct. 10—Coach Harry Lawrence of Bucknell university pushed his 38 man squad through a vigorous drill yesterday and expressed pleasure that his star end, Bob Williams of Massillon, O., was rounding into shape.

The LAURENTIANS BY FALL

QUEBEC, P. Q. . . . (1947) . . . For those who have found the charm of a fall vacation and planned their "time off" for September and October, there is no place in America that offers more scenic beauty, diversity of activity and invigorating climate than Quebec's central Laurentian district, a strip of magnificent mountain vacationland extending about 90 miles north of the exciting, close-to-hand, cosmopolitan center of Montreal.

A day's drive from New York, Boston and less from many of the other Eastern American centers, Montreal stands at the head of the great rolling Laurentian highway that whisks the tourist into a realm of natural splendor, sparkling in the fall's crisp air and unforgettable in myriad hues of rich coloring.

Fall fishing abound in the countless Laurentian lakes amid great stretches of unsullied mountain woodland. After you reach St. Jerome, only 30 odd miles from Montreal, the highway stretches out like the main trunk of a tree, with side roads as branches, each leading to unique and charming resorts where comfort, gay life and a new world beckons. Such famous resort names as Ste-Adele, Ste-Marguerite, Ste-Agathe, St-Sauveur des Monts, St-Jovite, St-Donat, Mont Tremblant — here they are to choose from, each with a personality of its own, its own brand of amusement. Good golf courses, tricky with mountain rolls, test the skill of your clubs; romantic winding bridle paths offer unlimited glorious fall riding; slick en-touscas tennis courts—all are here, and the air is the kind that makes you sleep as a child.

The Laurentian "habitant" used to call the fall the "off" season. But it was only a name carried over as a vestige of another era before people learned the charm of this district 12 months of the year. To be sure the vast influx of summer's "heat-refugees" is no longer apparent but hotel traffic stays close to peak booking.

Whether by plane, train or car, fall travel into the Laurentians is simple and direct. Those who found the personality of the Laurentians, that ancient uplift of rolling mountains, say that this part of America is at its best in the fall. Busy, warm bright days, cool deep-sleep nights are the order of things which the visitor never forgets.—Adv.

Baseball Managers Set for '48 In All But Three Major Clubs

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 10—With the exception of Brooklyn, Cleveland and the St. Louis Browns, the managerial picture in baseball's major leagues is set for the 1948 season.

While the world series monopolized the baseball news during the past week, most of the clubs set their houses in order by either signing new managers or extending the terms of incumbents.

The Washington Senators became the third club to appoint a new manager for 1948 when they signed Joe Kuhel, former star first baseman to a one-year contract yesterday. Kuhel replaces Ossie Bluege who moved into the front office.

Other Changes

Other changes which took place during the series saw Joe McCarthy, former leader of the New York Yankees, inking a two-year agreement to lead the Boston Red Sox and Billy Meyer agreeing to pilot the Pittsburgh Pirates for a similar stretch. McCarthy succeeded Joe Cronin who also moved upstairs while Meyer replaced Billy Herman, whose contract was bought up by the Pirates.

Almost overshadowing the changes in managers by the Pirates and Red Sox was the revelation by the Boston Braves and Chicago Cubs that they had resigned Billy Southworth and Charley Grimm respectively for five year periods. Southworth's salary was announced as "in excess of $250,000 for the span while Grimm's was unannounced.

Eddie Dyer was rehired for a year by the St. Louis Cardinals while Ben Chapman of the Philadelphia Phillies, Mel Ott of the New York Giants and Johnny Neun of the Cincinnati Reds are working on holdover contracts with Ott's tenure not over until 1950. Neun and Chapman terminate their contracts at the end of the 1948 season.

Bucky Harris of the world champion Yankees also is working on a hold over contract as are Ted Lyons of the Chicago White Sox and Muddy Ruel of the Browns.

Ruel, however, according to rumors may move upstairs in the Brownie organization.

Earlier in the week, it was believed that Player-Manager Lou Boudreau of Cleveland would come to the Browns in an eight player deal and take over the club leadership. However, this was dispelled when Brownie officials, attempting to sound out Boudreau if he would come to them as a player only, were refused permission by Cleveland to consult with Boudreau on the matter.

Boudreau Seems Out

At the moment, it seems that Boudreau will not manage the Indians next season. The star shortstop wants a long term pact while William Veeck, club president, is offering a one-year contract.

Steve O'Neill of the Detroit Tigers hasn't been signed yet but indications are that the popular Irishman will be in the next few weeks.

Barring unforseen events, Connie Mack will be at his old post with the Philadelphia Athletics next year leaving Brooklyn with the only other unsolved managerial puzzle. Brooklyn must choose between Burt Shotton who led the team during the past season and Leo Durocher, whose one year suspension by Commissioner A. B. Chandler ended with the final putout of the World Series.

Leather soles on shoes permit the passage of air through the natural hide.

BOWLING RESULTS

Local kingpin artist Homer Little, like Floyd Bevens — the Yankee pitcher whom he watched pitch eight and two-thirds innings of hitless ball in the World Series last week—came within a frame of making history. Little's Cookie Lavagetto was a gremlin or whatever that made him blow the last frame of the third game he bowled in the Marion Power Shovel league Tuesday night—the frame that stopped him from joining the bowling hall of fame with a 700 series.

As it was, Little bowled the highest three game series made at the Palace this year, a 679. He opened up with a high single game of 246, then a 243, and was set to make another big 200 game until the last frame, when he ended with a 190.

Other high series totals turned in by Shovel bowlers were Corrigan, 605, and Showalter, 603. High single games were bowled by Kegar, 224, Anderson, 214, Lashey, 210, Twegg, 200, Gerber, 201, Showalter, 223, 229, Ruhl, 214, and Corrigan, 231, 210.

In the Sportsman's league, rolling at the Palace, Wingard copped the high single game with a 214. McKeever was not far behind with a 212. Wingard's series of 565 was highest in that league.

Phyl Ruhl's single game of 168 topped the list in the Marion Engineer Depot Women's league, also working on the Palace alleys Tuesday night. Jessie McAfee's series of 397 was high.

Marion Power Shovel afternoon league saw the high single game turned in by Thornberry with a 233. His series of 514 was also tops. Shults made a single game of 220.

The All-Star league bowled at the Marion Recreation Tuesday night. High series was bowled by Peifer for Daggett's, who made a 568. Oberlander's 215 single game led the rest.

SHORTAGES TO IDLE TWO AUTO PLANTS

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Oct. 10—Shutdowns attributed to a shortage of steel will idle approximately 20,000 Chrysler Corp. workers and 8,000 employed by the Briggs Manufacting Co. next week.

About 9,400 more workers, employes of Hudson Motor Car Co. will remain away from work during a model changeover.

Chrysler announced yesterday that assembly operations at its Dodge and DeSoto division would be halted tonight and remain down until Oct. 20. The concern's Plymouth division, as well as two Briggs plants, closed Oct. 3 and will not reopen for another week.

Production at the Chrysler division of that firm will be reduced 30 per cent.

However, some 5,500 production men employed by General Motors Corp. Cadillac division will be recalled Monday after a two-week layoff blamed on a car frame shortage.

TRUMAN CALLS CURB ON RENT INADEQUATE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10—President Truman reiterated Thursday his belief that present rent controls are "plainly inadequate" in the wake of a five per cent rent increase in the Louisville, Ky., area.

Mr. Truman told his news conference that under the new rent control act, passed by the last session of congress, Housing Expediter Frank R. Creedon was compelled to approve the Louisville increase.

Creedon's action in granting the Louisville rent hike yesterday followed recommendations by the Louisville rent advisory board. Mr. Truman said that the new control act gives Creedon no power to change any recommendations made by a lawfully-appointed rent control board.

The President recalled his words when he signed the act—that it is "plainly inadequate" and that he signed only to prevent the removal of all rent ceilings.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

WITH an effort, I kept all concern from my face at Mary's assertion that she wished to call it a day and go to sleep for the night.

Was she less strong than we had guessed? Had she pushed herself too far?

But I could not reach for answers to my questions now. I must not let her guess that I thought her request unusual.

A Sensible Idea

"I think, for once, you have evolved a most most sensible idea," I told her. "Just lean back in that chair, and nurse it, while I call Aunt Katharine."

"I'll be glad to see her," Mary said leaning her head against the back of the chair. "I'm going to be a baby and ask her for a nice alcohol rub, following my shower. But I won't need any hot milk or dope to put me to sleep. I feel as if I could fall asleep this minute.'

"Better not," I advised, as my uneasiness about her mounted. "If you nap now, you'll spoil your later sleep. Aunt Katharine will be here in no time. You know that."

Prophecy Justified

My prophecy was justified. Katharine, when I called her, simply asking her to come over, was at the door in less than three minutes.

Mary looked at her appealingly as she entered.

"I'm the reason for the summons, Aunt Katharine," she said. "I feel in a helpless baby modo. I'd like to go to bed and sleep the clock round, and I'm just honing for one of your alcohol rubs.

Katharine shot a keen, quick look at her, then went up to her chair, and held out her hands. Mary grasped them and she pullher her patient upright.

"That's the first sensible thing I've heard you say for days," she said. "Come along. I'll be your maid and your masseuse and your nurse all rolled into one, and I'll lie across your threshold all night to see that your Aunt Madge and other intruders do not disturb your slumbers."

Pulled Hand Away

Mary giggled, as I knew Katharine intended her to do. Then she pulled one hand away from the nurse's clasp and waved it airly above her head.

"So long, darling!" she said. "See you in morning!"

The door closed after them, and I gave myself up to worried conjecture as to what this sudden weariness of Mary's might mean. When Katharine came back into the living room after half an hour and closed the door softly after her, I started from my chair.

"Is she asleep?" I asked, and Katharine gave me an appraising glance.

"Yes, she's asleep," she said, "and stop worrying. She's perfectly all right."

"You wouldn't say that unless you meant it," I began.

"You ought to know that by this time," she retorted with a grin.

Unlike Mary

"But this is so unlike Mary," I said.

"Granted. But she's been coasting along on her will and nerves ever since she came home," my kinswoman answered. "Now that every facet of her problem has been solved, and she has the go-ahead signal for her work on your play, she's experiencing the letdown which is to be expected."

"Will it last long?" I asked.

"With anybody else but Mary, she probably would be lolling around between naps for a week. But I'll lay a large-sized wager that she'll be up early tomorrow morning and raring to go."

Usually Right

"I hope you're right, as you usually are," I said. "But I couldn't help being worried about her."

"Who could?" Katharine countered. "But you needn't have a single care about her any more, except that she really ought to go a bit slow. Where's Dicky, by the way?"

"In his studio, I fancy. Do you want him?"

"I'd like to put a spoke in the wheel of that plan for a dinner and dance tomorrow night," she said. "When I consented to it, I hadn't counted on this emotional turmoil with both Mary and Noel."

Told Mary

"I told Mary about what Philip admitted about those royal rages," I interrupted, "and that Phil promised he would say nothing to Noel about the truth until I gave him the go-ahead signal."

"That in itself is a reason for postponing all festivities," Katharine said. "Mary and Noel ought to be quietly contemplative with no outside diversions until all this has been settled. But I'm afraid Dicky may look at the matter differently."

"I don't think so, but we'll soon find out," I said, as I went to the telephone and called by husband's studio.
